

Aspect Autism in Education Conference

Melbourne Convention & Exhibition Centre

5-6 May 2016

Book now to secure your place

More than 100 national and international speakers will present across a range of topics during oral presentations, lightning talks, posters, model class demonstrations, optional pre-conference masterclasses and through an exciting creative program to showcase innovation in schools.

The Aspect Autism in Education Conference offers an exciting opportunity for you to connect with others interested in learning and education for people on the spectrum.

This innovative two-day event at Melbourne's premier conference venue will bring together teachers, teachers' aides, school leaders, early childhood educators, allied health professionals, researchers, academics, disability providers, policy makers and others.

Delegates will be particularly excited to hear the voices of students, young people and adults on the spectrum about their own education, and those of their families and communities.

A range of flexible pricing options are available to secure your place at the conference. Early bird rates have been extended until 31 March 2016.
