NDIS Planning Workbook

Getting ready for the NDIS

The aim of this workbook is to help you prepare for your child's first planning meeting with the NDIS by:

- Understanding the NDIS process, language and framework
- Identifying what supports your child has now
- Considering what you might like to change
- Considering goals for the year and the future, and the supports required to reach those goals
- Being as prepared as possible for your child's NDIS planning meeting

NDIS Participant Statement & Plan

The NDIS will gather information through the planning process to develop an NDIS Participant Statement and Plan, which contains information about your child's:

- Living arrangements
- Important people in their life
- Day to day life
- Goals
- Supports
 - Informal supports
 - Community supports
 - Reasonable and necessary funded supports (which the NDIS will fund)

This workbook will help you to identify and document your child's current needs and supports, and to think about the supports they will require over the next 12 months that the NDIS plan will be in place.

Complete the sections that are relevant to your child (i.e. the 'Work' section will not be relevant if your child is 2 years old).

Living arrangements

Where I live and the people I live with

What are your child's current living arrangements?
Who do they live with?

Important people

People in your child's life who support you and your child

Who are the important people in your child's life who support you and your child? (e.g. family, relatives, friends, neighbours, teacher, carer or others)

Daily Living

Things your child does every day

What supports does your child need to become more independent in daily living skills (consider what is age appropriate)?

Daily Living includes getting up and dressed in the morning, having a shower or toileting, managing money, making appointments, meal preparations and eating, and cleaning the house.

The following list may prompt you to think about your child's daily living needs.

- Home and Community Care program
- Attendant care support
- Support Services
- Meals on Wheels
- Extra support at kinder or school
- Extra support at OSHC or Childcare
- Family or friends
- State Trustees/Administrator
- SWEP program
- Continence support

Transport

Being out and about

What support does your child need to get to places?

Getting around in the community, to school, kinder, appointments, and recreational activities is part of life. Transport enables a person to access the community.

The following list may prompt you when thinking about your child's transport needs:

- Public transport such as buses, trams and trains;
- Taxis, taxi vouchers, modified vehicle,
- School bus
- Activities
- Appointments

Consumables

Continance products, nutrition, interpreting and translating

What consumables does your child use?

Consumables include continance products, Home Enteral Nutrition (HEN) products, and interpreting and translating.

Purpose	Product	Quantity each week
Continance	Disposable
	Non disposable
	Wipes
	Kylie sheets

Assistive technology

Technology and equipment

Do you need vehicle modifications, communication devices or equipment for your child?

Examples might include ramps, hydraulics suspension, sliding boards or hand controls.

Purpose	Type of technology	How often is it used?
Communication
Mobility
Environmental Controls
Self-care
Access
Childcare
School
Specialist clothing or footwear
Other

Home modifications

Safety and accessibility at home

Do you need to make changes in your home for it to be safe and accessible?

Home modifications include installation of equipment or changes to building structures, fixtures or fittings to enable your child to live as safely and independently as possible at home.

The following list may prompt you to think about your child's needs so their home is safe and accessible.

- Office of Housing
- SWEP
- Specialist equipment
- Assistance dog
- Equipment repairs and servicing
- Vision support

Now I have:

Building modifications
Equipment
Equipment repairs and servicing
Technology

In the next 12 months my child will need:

Social & community participation

Connecting with others

What community and social activities does your child participate in?

The following list may prompt you to think about your child's social needs.

- Recreational programs
- OSHC programs
- Sporting clubs
- Recreational groups or activities
- Keeping in touch with family and friends
- Holiday programs
- Local council programs, libraries, community centres

My child participates in:	Supports required

In the next 12 months my child would like to try:	Supports required

Occasional activities

Social or recreational events

Does your child need support to participate in these activities?

Examples might include social and recreational activities, camps, school holiday programs and outside school hours care.

Choice & control

Building skills

Who could assist you with learning new skills around managing supports?

This could include training to increase your skills to manage supports, including building financial skills, organisational skills and the ability to direct your supports.

It also includes support to connect with and maintain relationships with informal, mainstream or funded supports, and resolve service delivery issues.

The following list might prompt you to think about the people who assist you and your child with this type of support:

- Key worker
- Transition coordinator
- Support coordinator
- Case manager
- State trustees/Administrator

What support is your family receiving now?	When do you use this support?	In the next 12 months, what type of support do you think you will require?

Work

Employment opportunities

Does your young person have a goal to work? Will they be leaving school soon and like to get a job?

Whether full-time, part-time or casual, supported or open employment, or work experience, your young person may require assistance to obtain or retain employment.

My dream job is:

Supports I need to achieve this:

Equipment

Technology

Paid support

Unpaid support

Transport

Relationships

Being able to get along with others and making and sustaining friendships are important for everyone.

Does your child need support to interact with others?

The following list might prompt you to consider your child's needs to support improved relationships.

- Psychologist
- Paediatrician
- Speech therapist
- Behaviour support programs
- Family and friends

Health & wellbeing

Physical, mental, emotional and social health

Does your child require supports, due to the additional requirements of their disability, to maintain health and wellbeing?

Activity	What supports does your child require?	In the next 12 months, what type of support will your child require?

Lifelong learning

Skills training, advice, and orientation to assist a person with disability moving through school to further education

What supports can assist your child's transition through school and to further education?

(NOTE: The NDIS does not fund supports in educational settings which are the responsibility of the Department of Education and Training.)

What my child/young person will be transitioning to in his/her education:

Supports required to assist this transition:

Skills training

Advice

Orientation

Informal support

Paid support

Informal supports provided by families

We don't often think of ourselves as 'carers' or 'informal supports'. The NDIS considers it reasonable to expect parents to provide a level of support to their children.

On the following pages are tables to complete about your role as a carer for your child.

Think about what you do on a daily or weekly basis and how many hours you spend assisting, prompting or supervising your child with tasks and activities that other typical children can do for themselves.

This is an opportunity for you to reflect on the supports you provide to your child, and consider whether you would like to use paid supports for some of these:

- What is typical for a child of the same age?
- Should your child start to become more independent in this task?
- Do you, as a parent, wish to continue the level of support you are providing?
- Do you wish to consider some of your own goals, such as going back to work?

Carer Statement

As a carer, you have the option to submit a Carer Statement and/or request a separate interview to support the person you care for.

This might include:

- How the caring role affects you
- Whether you are willing and able to keep caring for the person with disability in the same way into the future- this might become more relevant as you get older
- The impact of your caring role on your own personal needs, goals and health (for example- work, study, travel, social cultural or religious activities).

A Carer Statement may add insight, for instance:

- into your wellbeing and the toll that caring is having on you and your family
- a family illness, family separation, or any other change which will impact on the informal support the family provides or the person's living environment.

It is an opportunity to reflect on the sustainability of your caring role, and how that might change.

We encourage you to write and submit a Carer Statement.

(Based on Carers Australia, 'NDIS & Carers — Support for Families and Carers' www.carersaustralia.com.au)

Goals

Working towards outcomes

- What are the things that are most important for your child and your family?
- What are the things that you would like to try but never had the opportunity or support to do so?
- What things would you like to change?

From the worksheets you have completed in the previous pages, identify the main goals for your child over the next 12 months.

Refer to the NDIS Support Categories table (at end of Workbook) to relate goals back to an NDIS Outcome Domain.

Evidence

The NDIS requires evidence to show that your child has needs resulting from the impact of their disability.

Evidence can consist of reports, support plans, assessments, and any other documentation which demonstrate the needs of your child, strategies which have been put in place, or progress which has occurred.

- Lifestyle plan
- Behaviour support plan
- Person centred plan
- Client support plan
- Health support plan
- Individual Education Plan
- Therapy assessments
(physio, psychologist, speech therapist or occupational therapist)
- Letter from doctor or therapist
- Information from kindergarten, school or childcare
- Any day program or activity schedules
- Recreational program information or reports
- Information from a current service provider
- Carer Statement
- Any other information you have

NDIS Support Categories

This NDIA Price Guide is arranged into 15 categories that align to the purpose of the supports and the eight NDIA Outcomes Framework Domains.

NDIS Support Definitions

- 1. CORE A support that enables a participant to complete activities of daily living and enables them to work towards their goals and meet their objectives.
- 2. CAPITAL An investment, such as assistive technologies, equipment and home or vehicle modifications, funding for capital costs (e.g. to pay for Specialist Disability Accommodation).
- 3. CAPACITY BUILDING A support that enables a participant to build their independence and skills.

NDIS Outcomes Framework: Supports should help participants achieve their goals

The NDIS Outcomes Framework has been developed to measure goal attainment for individual participants and overall performance of the Scheme. There are 8 Outcome Domains ('Domains') in the framework. These Domains help participants think about goals in different life areas and assist planners to explore where supports in these areas already exist and where further supports are required

1. Daily Living	5. Work
2. Home	6. Social and Community Participation
3. Health and Well-being	7. Relationships
4. Lifelong Learning	8. Choice and Control
